I have been a governor at Central Park since 2006. I have been chair of the governing board since 2009. I have been chair of the CPD Federation's governing board since its inception 01st June 2018.

After graduating I joined the civil service having successfully sat and passed the civil service exams. I have worked at multiple Government departments in Whitehall in a senior capacity. Over a 20-year career I have worked in HR, business continuity, contract management, operational delivery, ICT, strategy & policy development and project, programme and portfolio management. I have led, delivered and assured a number of high profile transformational change programmes.

I also serve as CEO of a local charity, as a magistrate and as a non-executive director on some public bodies. People who know me well would describe me as loyal, driven, ambitious and as someone who always sets high goals. If I do something, I tend to give it my all - at home and at work.

It is an honour and privilege to serve and lead the multi-talented, diverse and committed governing board and staff of the CPD Federation.
